About the Conductor

Bob Chilcott has been involved in choral music for most of his life, as a boy chorister and choral scholar at King's College, Cambridge, and as a member of the vocal group The King's Singers for twelve years. Over the past six years he has poured his energy into the amateur choir world as a composer, conductor and choral clinician, with an emphasis on work with and for young singers.

As well as being conductor of the Royal College of Music Chorus, which he has conducted for seven seasons, Bob is Principal Guest Conductor of the BBC Singers, with whom he makes eight to ten recordings and concerts a year. Highlights this year include a concert in the South Bank's Choral festival "World Voice," and a performance of the Brahms German Requiem with piano duet for BBC Radio 3 online. In the coming year, as well as undertaking a major project with the Taipei Chamber Singers, he will also make his debut with the RIAS Kammerchor in Berlin as part of the "Zeitfenster" Festival. This will be a groundbreaking programme in conjunction with the Women's Choir Angelite from Bulgaria, and the male ensemble Tenores from Sardinia.
